

The Complete AI Side-Income Bundle — 6 Kits, 68+ Prompts

Everything in one place: 6 complete AI prompt kits for freelancers, job seekers, Etsy sellers, real estate agents, and small business owners.

Works on a free ChatGPT or Claude account. No code, no expensive tools.

Inside this bundle: (1) AI Automation Starter Kit, (2) Win-the-Client Proposal Pack, (3) Job Seeker's AI Kit, (4) Etsy Seller's AI Toolkit, (5) Real Estate Agent's AI Kit, (6) Social Media AI Kit.

AI Automation Starter Kit — The 10 Blueprints

A practical, no-code kit. Each blueprint = the problem it solves, the free tool stack, the steps, and the exact AI prompt to paste. Built to run on a free ChatGPT/Claude account plus free tiers of common tools.

How to use: pick ONE blueprint that hurts most this week. Set it up. Only then add a second. Trying all 10 at once is the #1 reason people quit.

Recommended free/low-cost stack

- AI model: ChatGPT or Claude (free tier is enough to start)
- Connector (optional): Make.com or n8n free tier — only if you want hands-off triggering. Manual copy-paste works for all 10 to start.
- Email/Docs: Gmail + Google Docs/Sheets (free)

1. Instant lead reply drafts

Problem: Slow replies lose leads. Stack: AI + email.

Steps: Paste the incoming message into the prompt → get 2 reply options → edit → send.

Prompt:

You are my sales assistant. Here is an inbound message from a potential client: "[PASTE]". Write two short, warm reply drafts (max 90 words each): one friendly-casual, one professional. End each with a single clear next step (a question or a booking link). No fluff.

2. Content repurposing engine

Problem: One idea, many platforms, no time.

Prompt:

Turn this into a content pack: "[PASTE blog/idea/transcript]". Output: (a) 1 LinkedIn post, (b) 3 tweets, (c) 1 Instagram caption with 5 hashtags, (d) 1 short-video script (≤45s) with a hook in the first line. Keep my voice plain and concrete. No emojis unless natural.

3. Invoice / payment reminder writer

Prompt:

Write a polite payment reminder for an overdue invoice. Client: [NAME]. Invoice: [#], amount [AMOUNT], due [DATE], now [X days] late. Tone: firm but friendly, assume good faith, give an easy way to pay. 3 escalating versions: gentle, direct, final-notice.

4. Customer FAQ / support responder

Prompt:

You are support for [BUSINESS, one line]. Our policies: [PASTE 3-6 bullet facts]. Customer asks: "[PASTE]". Answer in ≤120 words, accurate to the facts only. If the facts don't cover it, say you'll check and ask one clarifying question. Never invent policy.

5. Weekly business report from raw notes

Prompt:

Here are my rough notes/numbers for the week: "[PASTE]". Produce a 1-page report: Wins, Problems, Numbers (as a small table), Next week's top 3 priorities. Be concise and honest; flag anything that looks off.

6. Social post batch (a week in one go)

Prompt:

Generate 7 short social posts for [BUSINESS/niche]. Mix: 3 value/tips, 2 behind-the-scenes, 1 soft promo, 1 question to the audience. Each ≤280 chars, distinct hook, no hashtag spam. Number them Mon–Sun.

7. Cold-email first-draft (personalized)

Prompt:

Write a cold email to [PROSPECT/role] at [COMPANY]. What I offer: [ONE line]. One specific, true observation about them: "[PASTE]". Rules: ≤120 words, no flattery, lead with their problem, one soft CTA. Subject line ≤6 words.
(Reality check: generic cold email gets ~2-5% replies. Personalize the observation line by hand — that's where replies come from.)

8. Meeting notes → action items

Prompt:

Here is a meeting transcript/notes: "[PASTE]". Output: (a) 3-sentence summary, (b) decisions made, (c) action items as "Owner — task — due", (d) open questions. Don't invent owners or dates not in the text.

9. Review / testimonial request

Prompt:

Write a short message asking a happy customer for a review. Customer: [NAME], bought [PRODUCT/SERVICE]. Tone: grateful, low-pressure, make it 1-click easy. Give 2 versions: email and WhatsApp/DM. Include a one-line prompt the customer can copy if they're stuck on what to write.

10. Spreadsheet / data cleanup helper

Prompt:

I'll paste messy data. Task: [normalize names / split full name into first+last / fix date formats to YYYY-MM-DD / dedupe]. Return a clean table only, same row count unless deduping (then tell me how many you removed). Data: "[PASTE]".

Going hands-off (optional, later)

Once a blueprint earns its keep manually, wire it with Make.com or n8n (free tier): trigger (new email / form / schedule) → AI step (paste the prompt as the system message) → action (send email / append to Sheet).
Start manual. Automate only what you've proven you'll use.

Freelancer Win-the-Client Pack — Proposals, DMs & Pricing Scripts

Win more clients without sounding desperate. Copy-paste templates for the moments that actually decide whether you get hired and paid well.

How to use: replace [BRACKETS], keep it short, send. Confidence comes from clarity, not length.

1. Upwork/Fiverr proposal (the 5-line formula)

Hi [NAME] — you need [restate their goal in their words]. I've done this before: [1 specific result/example]. Here's how I'd approach yours: [step 1], [step 2], [step 3]. I can start [when] and deliver a first version by [date]. One question: [smart question that shows you read the brief]?

2. "No portfolio yet" opener (turns weakness into offer)

I'm building my portfolio in [niche], so I'll do this at a focused rate in exchange for a testimonial if you're happy. You get [clear deliverable] with unlimited revisions until it's right. Want me to send a quick plan?

3. Price-anchoring reply (when they ask "how much?")

Projects like this usually run [$X–$Y] depending on [1-2 scope factors]. For your scope I'd suggest [$Z], fixed, so there are no surprises. Want me to break down exactly what's included?

4. Handling "that's too expensive"

Totally fair. Two options: I can reduce scope to [smaller deliverable] for [$slower], or keep full scope and split into 2 payments. Which works better? (Don't just drop the price for the same work — change the scope.)

5. The "scope creep" boundary (kind but firm)

Happy to add [new request] — it's outside our current scope, so it'd be [+$X / +Y days]. Want me to fold it in? Just confirm and I'll proceed.

6. Asking for the deposit (no awkwardness)

Great — to lock in your slot I take 50% upfront, balance on delivery. I'll send the invoice/link now; I start as soon as it's in. Sound good?

7. Delivery message that earns the next job

Here's [deliverable]. Quick notes: [1-2 things to know]. If anything needs tweaking, tell me and I'll fix it. If you're happy, a short review really helps me — and I'd love to be your go-to for [related service].

8. Re-engaging a quiet lead (the gentle nudge)

Hi [NAME] — still keen to help with [project]. If timing's off, no worries; if you want to move, I have a slot opening [when]. Want it?

9. Raising your rates (for repeat clients)

Quick heads-up: from [date] my rate for new projects is [$X]. Your ongoing work stays at the current rate through [date]. Thanks for being a great client to work with.

10. Turning one project into a retainer

Instead of one-off requests, I can keep [outcome] running for you at [$X/month] — [what's included]. Predictable for you, no re-quoting each time. Want to try it for a month?

The Job Seeker's AI Kit — Land Interviews Faster

12 copy-paste AI prompts that turn a blank page into a tailored resume, cover letter, LinkedIn profile, and interview answers — in minutes, using a free ChatGPT or Claude account.

How to use: replace [BRACKETS] with your details. Always read the output and make it true to you — AI drafts fast, but you are the final editor. Never send anything you can't stand behind in an interview.

Part 1 — Resume

1. Tailor your resume to a specific job

Act as a professional resume writer. Here is my current resume: "[PASTE]". Here is the job description: "[PASTE]". Rewrite my resume bullet points to match this role: mirror the job's keywords, lead each bullet with a strong action verb, and quantify impact where possible. Keep everything truthful — do not invent experience. Output the revised bullets grouped by job.

2. Turn duties into achievements

Rewrite these job duties as achievement-focused bullets using the format "Accomplished [X] as measured by [Y] by doing [Z]". If a metric is missing, show the bullet and ask me one short question to get the number. Duties: "[PASTE]".

3. Beat the ATS (keyword check)

Compare my resume against this job description and list: (a) important keywords/skills in the job that are MISSING from my resume, (b) where I could naturally add each, (c) any that I should NOT add because I lack the skill. Resume: "[PASTE]". Job: "[PASTE]".

4. Write a punchy professional summary

Write 3 versions of a 2-3 sentence resume summary for a [ROLE] with [X years] experience in [field], strongest in [skills]. Tones: confident, understated, results-driven. No clichés like "hard-working team player".

Part 2 — Cover Letter

5. Draft a tailored cover letter

Write a cover letter for [ROLE] at [COMPANY]. Use my background: "[PASTE resume or notes]". Job: "[PASTE]". Rules: 3 short paragraphs, open with why THIS company (reference something specific), middle = 2 relevant proofs, close with a confident CTA. No "To whom it may concern", no fluff.

6. The "why this company" paragraph

Here's what the company says about itself: "[PASTE from their site/about page]". Write one specific, genuine paragraph on why I want to work there — concrete, not flattery. Avoid generic lines anyone could write.

Part 3 — LinkedIn

7. Rewrite your LinkedIn headline

Write 5 LinkedIn headline options for a [ROLE] focused on [specialty]. Each ≤220 characters, keyword-rich for recruiter search, not just a job title. Mix outcome-focused and skill-focused.

8. Rewrite your LinkedIn About section

Write a first-person LinkedIn "About" section for a [ROLE]. Background: "[PASTE]". 3 short paragraphs: hook, what I do + proof, what I'm looking for / how to reach me. Warm but professional, no buzzword soup.

9. Recruiter outreach message

Write a short LinkedIn message to a recruiter for [ROLE] at [COMPANY]. ≤80 words, polite, specific about fit, one clear ask (a quick chat). Give a casual and a formal version.

Part 4 — Interview

10. Predict the interview questions

Based on this job description, list the 10 most likely interview questions, grouped into behavioral, technical, and role-specific. For each, add one line on what the interviewer is really testing. Job: "[PASTE]".

11. Build STAR answers

Help me answer "[QUESTION]" using the STAR method (Situation, Task, Action, Result). Here's my raw experience: "[PASTE]". Keep it ≤90 seconds spoken, end on a quantified result, and flag anything that sounds rehearsed.

12. Smart questions to ask them

Give me 6 thoughtful questions to ask at the end of an interview for [ROLE] at [COMPANY] that show I researched them and care about impact — not salary/vacation. Base them on: "[PASTE about the company/role]".

Bonus: the 1-day job-application workflow

1. Prompt #3 → fix keyword gaps. 2. Prompt #1 → tailor resume.
3. Prompt #5 → cover letter. 4. Prompt #10 + #11 → prep answers.

Repeat per application. With these, a tailored application takes ~20 minutes instead of 2 hours.

The Etsy Seller's AI Toolkit — Listings That Get Found & Sold

11 copy-paste AI prompts to write SEO listings, find tags, answer buyers, and plan promotions for your Etsy shop — using a free ChatGPT or Claude account.

No marketing degree, no paid tools.

How to use: replace [BRACKETS] with your product details. AI gives you a strong first draft fast; tweak it to sound like your shop. Always check Etsy's current policies before using any claim.

Part 1 — Get Found (Etsy SEO)

1. Write a keyword-rich listing title

Act as an Etsy SEO expert. My product: "[DESCRIBE]". Write 5 listing-title options under 140 characters. Front-load the most-searched keywords a buyer would type, stay readable (not keyword spam), and avoid words Etsy ignores.

2. Generate 13 Etsy tags

Give me 13 Etsy tags (max 20 characters each) for this product: "[DESCRIBE]". Mix broad and long-tail buyer search phrases, include occasion/style/recipient variations, no single-word tags wasted, no repeats of the exact title.

3. Write the listing description

Write an Etsy listing description for "[PRODUCT]". Structure: (1) a 2-line hook on the benefit/feeling, (2) bullet specs (size, material, options), (3) who it's perfect for / occasions, (4) shipping & care note, (5) a soft CTA to favorite or message. Warm, scannable, benefit-first.

4. Find new keyword angles

Brainstorm 15 buyer search phrases for "[PRODUCT]" beyond the obvious — include gift occasions, recipient types, aesthetics/trends, and problems it solves. Mark which are likely high-competition vs. long-tail.

Part 2 — Convert Browsers to Buyers

5. Variations & upsell ideas

Suggest 5 product variations or add-ons I could offer for "[PRODUCT]" to raise average order value (e.g., personalization, bundles, sizes, gift wrap). For each, a 1-line reason a buyer would want it.

6. Pricing sanity check

Help me price "[PRODUCT]". My costs: materials [X], time [Y hrs], target hourly [Z]. Etsy fees ~6.5% + payment + listing. Show a cost breakdown and suggest a price with healthy margin, plus a "premium/gift" tier.

7. Photo & flat-lay shot list

Give me a 7-shot photo checklist to sell "[PRODUCT]" on Etsy: which angles, a scale/context shot, a lifestyle shot idea, and what each photo should make the buyer feel. Free-phone-camera friendly.

Part 3 — Buyer Communication

8. Friendly buyer message templates

Write short, warm Etsy message templates for: (a) order received/thank you, (b) shipped + tracking, (c) a delay apology, (d) asking for a review after delivery. Each ≤60 words, on-brand for a small handmade shop.

9. Handle a negative-review situation

A buyer is unhappy: "[PASTE their message]". Write a calm, professional reply that takes responsibility where fair, offers a concrete fix (replacement/refund/partial), and protects my shop's reputation. Give 2 tones: warm and firm-but-kind.

Part 4 — Grow

10. A month of social posts to drive traffic

Write 12 short social captions to promote my Etsy shop "[SHOP/NICHE]" over a month: mix product highlights, behind-the-scenes, customer love, and a soft sale. Each ≤200 chars with a clear hook. No hashtag spam.

11. Seasonal promotion planner

Suggest a 3-month promotion calendar for an Etsy shop selling "[NICHE]": which holidays/occasions to target, a sale or bundle idea for each, and when to update titles/tags for the season.

Bonus: new-listing workflow (10 minutes)

Prompt #1 (title) → #2 (tags) → #3 (description) → #7 (photos) → publish.

Then #8 keeps buyers happy and #4/#10 bring traffic.

The Real Estate Agent's AI Kit — Listings, Leads & Follow-up

12 copy-paste AI prompts to write listing descriptions, follow up with leads, and handle client communication — in minutes, on a free ChatGPT or Claude account. No code, no expensive CRM add-ons.

How to use: replace [BRACKETS]. Always verify facts (square footage, prices, disclosures) and follow your local real estate advertising rules. AI drafts; you are responsible for accuracy and compliance.

Part 1 — Listings

1. Write a listing description

Act as a real estate copywriter. Property details: "[beds, baths, sqft, location, standout features, price]". Write an MLS-ready listing description: a strong opening line, a flowing paragraph on lifestyle and features, a bulleted highlights list, and a closing CTA. Warm, accurate, no fair-housing violations (no language about buyer demographics).

2. Three headline options

Write 3 attention-grabbing listing headlines (≤80 chars) for this property: "[DETAILS]". One emphasizing value, one emphasizing lifestyle, one emphasizing location.

3. Social caption for a new listing

Write an Instagram/Facebook caption announcing a new listing: "[DETAILS]". Hook in line one, 3 highlights, a clear CTA to DM or book a showing, 5 relevant hashtags. No fair-housing-sensitive language.

4. "Just sold" / "Just listed" post

Write a short "[Just Listed / Just Sold]" social post for "[AREA]". Build my credibility, invite similar sellers/buyers to reach out, keep it humble and specific.

Part 2 — Leads & Follow-up

5. New-lead first response

Write a fast, friendly first reply to a new buyer lead who asked about "[PROPERTY/AREA]". ≤90 words, answer their question, ask 2 qualifying questions (timeline, financing), and offer a next step (call or showing).

6. The follow-up sequence

Write a 4-message follow-up sequence for a lead who went quiet after "[CONTEXT]". Space them out (day 2, day 5, day 12, day 25), each short and value-first, never pushy, each with one easy CTA.

7. Past-client check-in (referrals)

Write a warm, no-agenda check-in message to a past client I helped buy/sell [timeframe] ago. Friendly, personal, gently opens the door to referrals without asking outright.

Part 3 — Client Communication

8. Explain an offer/counter in plain English

Explain this offer situation to my client in simple, reassuring terms: "[DETAILS]". Cover what it means, their options, and a recommended next step framed as their decision. No legal advice.

9. Buyer/seller expectation-setting

Write a clear, friendly message setting expectations for a [buyer/seller] about the next 30 days of the process: key steps, what I need from them, and typical timelines. Reduce anxiety, sound organized.

10. Tough-news message (price drop / no offers)

Help me deliver tough news to a seller: "[SITUATION, e.g., no offers in 3 weeks]". Empathetic, data-grounded, ends with a concrete recommendation. Two tones: gentle and direct.

Part 4 — Marketing

11. Neighborhood guide (lead magnet)

Write a short, helpful neighborhood guide for "[AREA]": vibe, who it suits, nearby amenities, and a line on the market. Useful and shareable, ends inviting questions. Avoid steering/fair-housing issues.

12. Monthly market-update email

Write a concise monthly market-update email for my sphere about "[AREA]": 3 quick stats (I'll fill in), what it means for buyers and sellers, and a soft CTA to reach out. Friendly, credible, ≤200 words.

The Small Business Social Media AI Kit — A Month of Content in an Hour

12 copy-paste AI prompts to plan, write, and repurpose a month of social media content for your business — on a free ChatGPT or Claude account. No agency, no guesswork, no staring at a blank caption box.

How to use: replace [BRACKETS] with your business details. Edit outputs to sound like you. Post consistently — the prompts make content; consistency makes results.

Part 1 — Plan

1. Build a 30-day content calendar

Act as a social media strategist. My business: "[WHAT YOU DO + audience]". Build a 30-day content calendar with a mix of: educational tips, behind-the-scenes, customer proof, promotions (max 20%), and engagement questions. For each day give a content type + a one-line idea. Keep it realistic for a solo owner.

2. Find your content pillars

Based on my business "[DESCRIBE]", suggest 4-5 content pillars (recurring themes) I can rotate through so I never run out of ideas. For each, give 3 example post ideas.

Part 2 — Write

3. Batch a week of captions

Write 7 social captions for "[BUSINESS]". Mix: 3 value/tips, 2 behind-the-scenes, 1 soft promo, 1 question. Each ≤280 chars, distinct hook in line one, no hashtag spam. Number them Mon–Sun.

4. The scroll-stopping hook

Give me 10 first-line hooks for a post about "[TOPIC]" for "[AUDIENCE]". Make them curiosity- or problem-driven, no clickbait that I can't deliver on.

5. Promotional post that doesn't feel salesy

Write a promo post for "[OFFER]". Lead with the customer's problem, show the outcome, make the offer clear, one CTA. Friendly, not pushy. ≤200 chars.

6. Reusable hashtag sets

Give me 3 hashtag sets (10 each) for "[NICHE]": one broad-reach, one niche, one local/community. Avoid banned or spammy tags.

Part 3 — Repurpose

7. One idea → five platforms

Turn this idea into a content pack: "[PASTE idea/blog/transcript]". Output a LinkedIn post, an Instagram caption, 3 tweets/X posts, a short-video script (≤45s), and an email snippet. Keep my voice consistent.

8. Turn a review into content

Turn this customer review into a shareable social post (with permission): "[PASTE review]". Highlight the result, add a warm thank-you, invite others. Keep it authentic, not braggy.

9. Short-video (Reels/TikTok) script

Write a 30-45s vertical video script for "[TOPIC]": a 3-second hook, 3 quick points, and a CTA. Include on-screen text suggestions. Faceless-friendly.

Part 4 — Engage & Measure

10. Reply to comments and DMs faster

Write friendly reply templates for common situations: a compliment, a price question, a complaint, and a collaboration request. On-brand for "[BUSINESS]", each ≤40 words.

11. Engagement questions that get comments

Give me 12 simple questions to ask my audience "[NICHE]" that spark easy replies (this-or-that, fill-in-the-blank, quick opinions).

12. Monthly review prompt

Here are my numbers/notes for the month: "[PASTE]". Tell me what worked, what to drop, 3 things to do more of next month, and 5 fresh post ideas based on what performed.

Bonus: the 1-hour monthly workflow

Prompt #1 (calendar) → #3 (batch captions weekly) → #7 (repurpose top posts)

→ schedule everything. A month of content, planned in about an hour.
