

The Fitness Coach's AI Kit — Sign Clients, Write Programs, Keep Them

12 copy-paste AI prompts to attract clients, write programs and check-ins, and keep members motivated — on a free ChatGPT or Claude account. For personal trainers, online coaches, and gym owners.

How to use: replace [BRACKETS]. AI drafts the words; you provide the coaching expertise. Never give medical advice — refer clients to professionals when health issues arise.

Part 1 — Attract Clients

1. Niche positioning statement

I'm a [type] coach helping "[WHO]" achieve "[GOAL]". Write 5 clear, specific positioning statements (no "transform your life" clichés) that speak to a real outcome my ideal client wants.

2. Content ideas that attract clients

Give me 20 short-form content ideas for a "[NICHE]" fitness coach that build trust and attract clients: myths, quick tips, client wins, day-in-the-life. Each with a hook line.

3. Free lead-magnet outline

Outline a simple free resource (e.g., "5-day kickstart" or "grocery list") that my ideal client "[DESCRIBE]" would trade their email for. Title + 5 sections + the one result it promises.

Part 2 — Convert

4. Discovery / consult call guide

Write a consult-call framework for a "[SERVICE]": warm opening, 8 questions uncovering the client's goal, history, and obstacles, a transition to my offer, and a soft close. Supportive, not salesy.

5. Handle "I can't afford it"

A prospect says they can't afford coaching: "[CONTEXT]". Write a respectful reply that reframes value vs. cost, offers a smaller entry option, and keeps the door open. No pressure.

6. Package & pricing tiers

Design 3 coaching packages (starter / core / premium) for "[NICHE]". For each: who it's for, what's included, and the transformation. Make the core the obvious choice.

Part 3 — Deliver

7. Workout program description

Write a clear, motivating description of a [X-week] program for a client at "[LEVEL]" with goal "[GOAL]": what it includes, weekly structure, and what results to expect. Honest, no overpromising. (I provide the actual exercises.)

8. Weekly check-in message

Write a warm weekly check-in for a client working toward "[GOAL]": celebrate a win, ask about adherence/energy/obstacles, and set one focus for the week. Supportive accountability.

9. Nutrition guidance message (non-medical)

Write general, non-medical nutrition guidance for a client wanting "[GOAL]": simple habits, balanced framing, no extreme claims. Add a line to consult a doctor/dietitian for medical needs.

Part 4 — Retain & Grow

10. Re-motivate a struggling client

A client is losing motivation: "[SITUATION]". Write an encouraging message that normalizes the dip, refocuses on their why, and gives one tiny next step. Empathetic, not preachy.

11. Win-back lapsed members

Write a warm "we miss you" message to a lapsed client/member with a low-pressure reason to return. Two versions: text and email.

12. Referral & testimonial request

Write a natural message asking a happy client (result: "[RESULT]") for a testimonial and a referral. Specific, low-pressure, easy to say yes to.
