

The Teacher & Tutor's AI Kit — Plan Lessons & Save Hours

12 copy-paste AI prompts to plan lessons, create materials, communicate with parents, and grade faster — on a free ChatGPT or Claude account. For teachers, tutors, and homeschool parents.

How to use: replace [BRACKETS]. Always review AI output for accuracy and age-appropriateness before using with students. You are the educator; AI is a drafting assistant.

Part 1 — Plan

1. Build a lesson plan

Act as an experienced [subject] teacher. Create a [45-minute] lesson plan on "[TOPIC]" for [grade/level]: objective, hook, direct instruction, guided practice, independent practice, and a quick assessment. Include timing.

2. Differentiate for all learners

Take this lesson on "[TOPIC]" and give me three versions: one for students who need support, one on-level, and one extension/challenge. Same objective, adjusted scaffolding.

3. Unit / week overview

Outline a [1-week] unit on "[TOPIC]" for [level]: daily objectives, key vocabulary, activities, and an end-of-unit assessment idea.

Part 2 — Create Materials

4. Quiz / worksheet generator

Create a [10-question] quiz on "[TOPIC]" for [level]: a mix of multiple choice, short answer, and one applied question. Include an answer key.

5. Explain a concept simply

Explain "[CONCEPT]" to a [grade] student in simple terms, with an everyday analogy and one quick check-for-understanding question.

6. Discussion questions & activities

Give me 8 engaging discussion questions and 3 hands-on activity ideas for "[TOPIC]" at [level] that encourage critical thinking.

Part 3 — Communicate

7. Parent update / newsletter

Write a warm class newsletter for [week/month]: what we learned, what's coming, and one way parents can help at home. Friendly, concise.

8. Difficult parent message

Help me write a professional, empathetic message to a parent about "[ISSUE, e.g., missing work / behavior]". Factual, solution-focused, partnership tone.

9. Student feedback that motivates

Write encouraging, specific feedback for a student on "[WORK/SITUATION]": name a strength, one clear next step, and a motivating close. Growth-minded.

Part 4 — Save Time

10. Grade short answers faster

Here is a rubric "[PASTE]" and a student response "[PASTE]". Give a score with 2 lines of specific, kind feedback tied to the rubric. (I review before finalizing.)

11. Sub plans in minutes

Write clear emergency sub plans for [subject], [level], for one day: a simple lesson a substitute can run, materials needed, and classroom-management notes.

12. Report-card comments

Write 3 report-card comment options for a student who is "[brief description of performance]": specific, professional, balanced (strength + growth area).
